Dear Parents,

After school cookery lessons at Farnborough primary school

I am pleased to announce that from Tuesday 9th January 2018, The Cooking Shed will be running after school cookery classes for all juniors (age 8yrs+). If you'd like to enrol your child on to the class, read on for further info...

Regan Anderton, owner and tutor at The Cooking Shed, will be running a 'learn to cook the world' programme of cookery classes - a series of six, one hour lessons where a different country is chosen each week, and dish that's representative of its national cuisine is made. Children will get to have a taster of the food made by the tutor in the class, and take home what they've made and learnt to enjoy with their family.

Classes will take place within the school, from 3.30-4.30pm on the following dates...

Tues 9 Jan - Italian

Focaccia pizza

Tues 16 Jan - Thai

Vegetable spring rolls with Thai dipping sauce

Tues 23 Jan - Spanish

Chicken & chorizo empanadas

Tues 30 Jan - Mexican

Meatballs & cous cous

Tues 6 Feb - Chinese

Chinese chicken steam buns

Tues 20 Feb - British

Sausage rolls

To enroll your child on to the first 'learn to cook the world' series of classes, please email regan@thecookingshed.com with the subject line: 'Farnborough primary - series one'. Please include your child's full name, age, year group, and allergies or intolerances, and your name and contact number. The total cost for the six classes is £60, and payment should be made either via bank transfer, or cheque made payable to The Cooking Shed Limited before the classes begin - Regan will contact those of you who are allocated a space to arrange payment with further info.

Please note that we only have 13 spaces on this first series of classes, and so spaces will be allocated on a first contact basis. We will happily then keep your details to contact you when the next series of classes start, to ensure we can enable as many children as possible to take part. For more information about The Cooking Shed, visit www.thecookingshed.com or call Regan on 07525 763198.

Yours sincerely
Regan Anderton
