Easter Nests Recipe

TO MAKE 10 EASTER NESTS YOU WILL NEED

225g (8oz) milk chocolate • 50g (2oz) butter

2 tablespoons of golden syrup • 100g (4oz) cornflakes

Packet of candy-coated mini eggs • Paper baking cases

A baking tray • A large saucepan

WHAT YOU DO:

1. Place ten of the paper baking cases into the hollows of the baking tray.
2. Break the chocolate into pieces and place these into a large saucepan.
3. Add the butter into the pan. Dip a tablespoon into hot water to warm it up before using it to add the golden syrup into the pan.
4. Heat the pan stirring the mixture all the time until the chocolate and the butter have melted.
5. Turn off the heat. Add the cornflakes to the mixture gently stirring them until they are covered with the chocolate. Be careful not to crush the cornflakes too much.
6. Put the cornflake mixture into each of the paper baking cases. Make a small hollow in the centre of each nest with the back of a teaspoon.
7. Place a few eggs in each nest and then place the tray into the fridge to allow the nests to set. Remove after about an hour.

Your nests are best stored in an airtight container in the fridge but need to be eaten within three days (if they last that long!).

There are many different customs associated with Easter Day which involve eggs and in fact Easter Day was once known long ago as Egg Sunday. For the last two hundred years in Britain it has been the tradition to give children chocolate eggs on Easter Sunday. The giving of eggs at Easter celebrates new life and Christians all around the world remember that Jesus, after dying on the cross, rose from the dead. The egg is a symbol of Jesus' resurrection, as when they are cracked open they represent the empty tomb. This miracle showed that life could win over death. Although this is now how the eggs are seen by Christians it is thought that they were first used as symbols at festival times long before Jesus' time. Eggs were always thought to be special because although they do not seem alive, they have life within them especially at springtime when chicks hatch out.

They are seen as a traditional symbol of fertility and rebirth.

In lots of countries children are told the Easter Bunny has hidden chocolate eggs and they race to find them round the house or garden. Children in other countries decorate hard-boiled eggs at Easter time by painting or dyeing them.

WHEN IS EASTER?

Easter Day is always on a Sunday but the date can change each year unlike Christmas, which is always on 25 December. Many years ago Christians decided that Easter Day should always be on the Sunday following the first full moon after the first day of Spring, around 21 March. This means that Easter can be as early as 22 March or as late as 25 April.

This year Easter Sunday is the 1st April.

I hope you all have a lovely Easter Break and don't eat all your chocolate eggs at once. If you make the Easter nests at home I would love to see a picture of them so please email me at: MrNourish@nourishcontractcatering.co.uk
