15th February 2019

Dear Parents and Carers,

We are very excited to tell you that Kate Cunningham, the author of 'Vlad and the Great Fire of London' will be hosting a workshop for your child on Thursday 28th February. The children already know the story of Vlad extremely well as they have studied this book during English and produced some fantastic pieces of writing about it.

In addition to this, the children will be taking part in 'Pudding Lane Day' on Monday 4 March 2019 when they will become bakers and cook their own bread, as well as taking part in a variety of other activities. We will send more information about this day after the half term break.

For the workshop and 'Pudding Lane Day' we would ask for a voluntary contribution of £5.00 towards the costs, which can either be paid via AGORA, or by cash/cheque handed into the School Office in a sealed envelope marked with your child's name, class and 'Fire of London'. Voluntary contributions may be requested but no pupil may be disqualified from taking part by parents' unwillingness to pay. If you are eligible for and have registered for free school meals this activity will be paid for by the school.

The author has requested that we attach the following form which details the opportunity to purchase signed copies of her books. If you wish to make a purchase please complete as detailed on the form and return it to us in a sealed named envelope together with full payment addressed to Kate Cunningham, as these will be handed directly to the author for her to process.

Yours sincerely

On Thursday 28th February we are having a visit from Kate Cunningham, author of the Vlad story and activity books. Vlad is a cheeky flea who often finds himself caught up in key moments in history. As part of her visit Kate will be selling copies of her book and signing dedications. If you would like to pre-order any of the books please return the form below with payment by Tuesday 26th February. If you want to see more about the books, see Kate's website www.readingriddle.co.uk

Please return this form with payment (cheques made payable to Reading Riddle) to the class teacher by Tuesday 26th February 2019.
