SHACKLETON'S JOURNEY

William Grill
FLYING EYE BOOKS

CILIP Kate Greenaway Medal winner
A New York Times Best Illustrated Book
AOI Illustration New Talent Award winner

"I felt strangely drawn to the mysterious south. I vowed to myself that some day I would go to the region of ice and snow, and go on and on 'til I came to one of the poles of the Earth, the end of the axis on which this great round ball turns."
— Ernest Shackleton

Beautifully illustrated by William Grill,
Shackleton's Journey is the epic true story of how Shackleton and his crew managed to survive crossing the frozen heart of Antarctica, and a testament to their great courage and endurance.

"William Grill eschews panels for wonderfully immersive spreads. A book that captures the rewards and trials of polar exploration in great style."
— the Guardian

Unbelievably, Shackleton was not finished with exploring. He wanted to go back and try again. We started off this book by looking at his original job advert.

Have a go at writing a new one for his new expedition to Antarctica.

Draw Like Modigliani

Modigliani's portraits are so characteristic that it is easy to copy them!

Draw a Modigliani-Style Self Portrait

SUPPLIES: 24" x 18" black construction paper, cut to 8" x 18" panels, oil pastels

1. Fold paper three times to make grid shown above. Fill top half with an oval.

2. Add a super long neck in the panel below the head.

3. Draw a shirt line and shoulders.

4. Add eyes a little higher than normal, a mouth a little lower. Add ears.

5. Draw a nose that is stretched to fill the space. Add hair around the head. Erase top head line.

Hair options: A solution for drawing short and curly hair. Modify to match your own hair style.

Standard face proportions, to compare to Modigliana's.

If you have pastels use to colour as these children have, if not use what you have and be creative.

Maybe try a monochrome version (Black and White), it could be very effective.

If you really enjoy doing these Modigliani Portraits, checkout my favourite art website for another lesson!
