

Why are Everyday Materials important?

Key Vocabulary	Definition	Start of the topic	End of the topic
Rock	Rock is a natural material. It is hard.
Soils	Soil is a natural material. It is soft.
water	Water is a natural material. It is transparent.
wood	Wood is a natural material. It is hard.
metal	Metal is a manufactured material. It is shiny.
plastic	Plastic is a manufactured material. It is dull.
glass	Glass is a manufactured material. It is transparent.
rubber	Rubber is a manufactured material. It is waterproof.
paper	Paper is a manufactured material. It is absorbent.
fabric	Fabric is a manufactured material. It is bendy.
brick	Brick is a manufactured material. It is rough.
materials	Everything around us and that we use is made of some form of material. All materials come from animals or plants, are dissolved in the sea or are mined from the ground. Natural materials can be identified in the physical environment objects	n object is a material that can be seen or touched.
natural	Manufactured materials have been processed in some way from raw materials or have been processed in some way from raw materials .
manufactured	Natural materials can be identified in the physical environment .
Properties	Properties describe materials, we use our senses to describe materials, how they feel or how they look.		